

BREAKING NEWS

YouthCAN receives highest honor from the White House!

The WING

I learned that I have to make my own milestones in life so there is a legacy that I leave behind. —Yu, age 19, May 2010, YouthCAN participant

We are thrilled to announce

The Wing's YouthCAN was honored on Oct 20th as one of just 15 national recipients of the National Arts and Humanities Youth Program Award from the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities.

Chosen from more than 400 nominations and 50 finalists, YouthCAN was recognized as an outstanding community arts and humanities program that celebrates the creativity of America's young people. First Lady Michelle Obama personally presented us with the plaque at an award ceremony at the White House!

JOIN US in celebrating this significant award and see YouthCAN's latest exhibit, From the Ground Up.

Friday, October 29th, 4:30-6pm • In the Community Hall at The Wing

Special thanks to:

The Comcast Foundation, a long-time partner and supporter of YouthCAN

City of Seattle

Central Children's Charities, Inc.

Through YouthCAN, we have been able to empower low-income and/or immigrant and refugee Asian Pacific American high school students by helping them build leadership and public speaking skills as well as explore their creative voices and cultural heritage through arts-based programming. They are our future leaders, so thank you!

Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience

719 S. King St.
Seattle, WA 98104

www.wingluke.org

Smithsonian Institution
Affiliations Program

Nonprofit Organization
US Postage

PAID
Seattle, WA
Permit # 918